

February 7, 2012

We're hoping you found Pat O'Brien's presentation at the All College meeting informative, and maybe even enjoyable. Pat does a great job of clearly presenting the importance of the self-study process. As she said later in the day when meeting with the committee chairs, we know NVCC will be reaccredited – the purpose of the self-study is really to understand our own strengths and weaknesses more fully and to grow as an institution.

As we continue this last phase of our NEASC Self Study research, the committees continue to search out the last bits of data to fill out the “story” of our college. In the next few weeks, you may hear from some of those committee members asking for the last of the data they need. Please try to respond as quickly as possible, as we are moving close to the deadlines for completing the draft of the report.

The Steering Committee has been hard at work reviewing the Appraisal conclusions from the individual committees and forming projections. We'll begin publishing those in this newsletter in the coming weeks.

Sincerely,

Dean Sandra Palmer & Kim O'Donnell
Your NEASC Co-chairs