

May 8, 2012

Have you read it yet??

We know you're busy, but we really do need your input on the self study document. We know there must be mistakes. We suspect we've missed things or misunderstood things. We need you to tell us where the report is less than perfect.

You can find the report on the NEASC page of the college website at <http://www.nv.edu/About-NVCC/Accreditation-NEASC/itemId/1875/NEASC-Reports>. On the same page you'll find a form to use to provide feedback. Representatives from each standard will also be available in the Atrium right after the All College meeting on Thursday to answer questions and take feedback.

You don't need to read the whole thing (though that would be great!). I've listed the Standards below. Read the section or sections that most relate to the work you do at the college. Let us know what we've left out or what information is inaccurate in any way.

- Standard One: Mission and Purpose
- Standard Two: Planning and Evaluation
- Standard Three: Organization and Governance
- Standard Four: The Academic Program
- Standard Five: Faculty
- Standard Six: Students
- Standard Seven: Library and Other Information Resources
- Standard Eight: Physical and Technological Resources
- Standard Nine: Financial Resources
- Standard Ten: Public Disclosure
- Standard Eleven: Integrity

Sincerely,

Dean Sandra Palmer & Kim O'Donnell
Your NEASC Co-chairs